Missionary to South Africa

Reaching Orphans for Jesus Christ

April 2020

I received a note from a dear, elderly friend the other day that simply read,
"Don't worry about tomorrow, Lorna, God's already there."

What a beautiful comfort to know that we don't have to have all the answers as to what the future holds; we just have to trust in the One who holds the future!
Often it takes moments of heartbreak, pain, or humiliation to turn us away from our own strengths and look upon the strength of our all-sufficient Savior. It is then that we are reminded of this one simple, yet significant truth: God is enough.

His grace his sufficient, His peace is perfect, and His way is perfect.

Although I don't know what these next few months will look like in my own life, I am content in knowing God is still in control and has me exactly where He wants me. I'm so grateful for today's technology which has allowed me to be a part of services at my home church and with my church family in South Africa.

Each day, as I stay here with my parents in NH, I am made more aware of the need for those in South Africa and around the world, who are living in very minimal space with little food, medical care, and resources. More importantly, though, I am reminded of their greater need for a Savior! I pray that God will use these days to grow our faith in Him and to give us a bigger burden for the millions of lost souls who are dying all around us. What an amazing opportunity we have to be a light to this dark world!

Thank-you so much for each phone call, email, text, and card that's been sent my way. I have been so encouraged from the thoughtfulness and generosity of so many of you and your church families, even during these uncharted times!

"As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the LORD is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him." Psalm 18:30
