Greetings from Allen, TX! I've spent much time over these past several days contemplating about what to write in this letter. I'm really not much of a procrastinator, but I delayed this as long as I possibly could. Now that I got that off of my chest, I'll update you about our ministry first. As the extreme left wing liberal mainstream media continues to drive their COVID narrative, the society we now live in is almost in total paralysis regarding the things of God! Inevitably this has wreaked havoc for a baby church plant trying her best to get planted and ESTABLISHED! Since our confidence is in the Lord to "build HIS church" we continue to move steadfast ahead in our efforts and labor. I'm confident that Confrontational Bible Preaching, Convicting Music, Compassionate Soulwinning and a Consecrated Life are STILL RIGHT and totally worth continuing no matter the outcome. We are down in numbers currently, but God is still at work here!

Now for the really tough part, I will do my best to compose my emotions and just share a brief update about our family. This is primarily for those who we don't have an email or texting number for. For these past nearly 11 weeks, our 13-year-old daughter Hannah has been very sick and has spent a lot of time in and out of hospitals, doctors, & various specialists. It has been very difficult to endure to say the least. We do feel like we are literally days away from a final diagnosis and prayerfully the right treatment for her. On at least 2 occasions during this storm, it looked totally hopeless, but GOD has intervened time and time again in every way we could possibly imagine. Between working a full-time job, planting a church, running back and forth from hospitals to home and back, and trying to balance our family life, we have been a little extra busy over these past 3 months. One thing we do understand though this, is that we can't have the testimony without the TEST!

Thank you for your faithful love, prayers, and continued support as we labor to reach Allen, TX and the surrounding areas with the gospel of Jesus Christ!

In Christ,
The Leake Family
