It is so exciting to think about what God has done over the past few months. Many years ago, my prayer was that God would use my life wherever, whenever and however He pleased. I am glad that He has answered that prayer over and over again.

I was blessed to go back in August to Burkina Faso with my pastor, Chris Hanks. God greatly blessed our time. Bro. Hanks preached or taught a total of 24 times in about a week and a half. I tried to wear him out, but I think he wore me out more because I was blessed to translate most of the messages. We had a Bible conference during the first week, and the crowd grew each day. The next week was our youth camp. We started youth camp 15 years ago with less than 30 of us. This year God blessed with over 300. God moved greatly every service. There was powerful singing and powerful preaching, and 16 young people were born into the family of God. It was a great blessing listening to the youth testify the last night about all that God had done in their lives. By God's grace, we will be on our own land for youth camp next year. I am looking forward to that and all the greater opportunities our own place will provide us.

We are thrilled with the ending of furlough. God has truly used this time of furlough in so many different ways. We have preached in many churches. We have been used to preach some mission's conferences. We have helped in youth camps and even helped in preparing new missionaries for the work that God has called them to.

We are so proud of our two wonderful daughters, Emily and Meredith. They are both settled into good Independent Baptist Bible colleges. Even though it is hard going back without them we are excited about where God has led them and what God is doing in their lives. Rebecca and I have been greatly blessed by the wonderful children He has given us.

His Servants,

Keith, Rebecca, Emily, Meredith, Isaac and Caleb Shumaker
