Dear Pastors, Friends, and Faithful Supporters,

It is a joy to send you greetings from Wales as the days grow shorter and we approach the joyful Christmas season! We hope this letter finds you warm and well.

Stepping Up and Filling In

With our ministry partners away in the States, Dana and I have been covering some of their responsibilities and filling in wherever needed. This season has been full of new opportunities! For me, that's meant a lot more time in the pulpit lately, preaching the Good News. Dana has also been working hard on some excellent Welsh-focused children's books. She contacted the local school to volunteer as an author, offering services such as story time or writing workshops. We're excited for this potential way to reach more children in our community.

Fruit from Faithful Witness

We have an exciting praise report! For over three years, we have been faithfully witnessing to a lady who attended many of our events, often asking us what made our "religion" different. Recently, she moved and was invited to the Baptist chapel next door to her, pastored by a good friend of ours. She agreed to attend, telling the pastor that our witness had been instrumental in helping her be open to the Gospel. She, along with her two daughters, attended the morning service and had a wonderful time! Our friend was thrilled to let us know that our consistent witness had brought forth this fruit.

New Growth and Sharing the Good News

Dana also created some Welsh story tracts that present the gospel in a way the people here find less intimidating. We introduced them to our Bible study group, and they were super excited! Members are now actively sharing them in the community, showing that they are beginning to understand their Christian responsibilities extend beyond attending services. Our group is showing a deeper interest in learning God's Word, asking more questions and seeking clarification on long-held beliefs. It's been an exciting time to witness this spiritual growth. Meanwhile, I'm still utilizing my connections through the local bowls group and through my cooking and baking efforts to witness to others.

A Loss and a Reminder to Pray

We share with sadness the loss of our friend, Randle, who passed away on December 5th. Randle allowed us to stay in his home rent-free for the first few months after we arrived in 2022. Though he would allow me to tell him about Jesus, he remained set in his ways, stating that "religion wasn't for him." To my knowledge, he made no profession of faith. Please keep his family in your prayers.

Thank You and Looking Ahead

Your prayers and support are a constant source of strength, and we are so grateful for your generosity, especially the recent Christmas offerings. They are deeply appreciated! We will start up our community events again after the New Year, so please pray for wisdom as we plan and prepare new ways to engage and encourage our community. We thank you once again for your faithfulness in standing with us as we serve in Wales. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

In Christ's Hand,
Jason and Dana Rongione
