BARAMITA: This village of around 6,000 people is home to a large population of Carib Amerindians. The Caribbean is named after them and they have historically been known for their might in work and power in war. Those Caribs still living in the interior of mainland South America were not conquered by enemies with sword and shield, but rather by a spiritual enemy. The introduction and subsequent addiction to alcohol and spirits immediately stripped them of power. Now, the village of Baramita is truly a people which sit in darkness. It is known for its extreme alcohol addiction, rape, murder, children of extremely young ages bearing children, and Satan's crowning pleasure... suicide. Jn 8:44

THE HALL: There have been many attempts to begin a work here, but all of them faced an impenetrable wall... the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses. Out of 6,000 residents, 4,000 of them claim to be JW, for this is the only "church" in the village. Any attempts to start a new church must be done with permission from the Village Council, which has historically been made up of JW's.

BUT GOD: Through strange circumstances, God directed us to make a survey trip to this village. Eight of us made the 4 hour trek through muddy and mountainous jungle roads, not knowing what the outcome would be. Our goal was to get permission from the Toshau and Village Council to come back in October to hold an evangelistic meeting. Although, our request has not yet been granted by the Council, they welcomed us openly, and granted us permission to visit the people and hold a Children's Bible Club in the public school. Everywhere we went, we heard gruesome stories of the weekly juveniles found dead at the end of a rope, accompanied by a plea for us to come and give them hope. An empty church building has already been secured and we thank God for this great and effectual door.
