Missionaries to Wales

Dear Friends:

September has been an exciting--though busy--month for us. At the beginning of the month, we launched our deputation journey with a two-day orientation at Macedonia World Baptist Missions. For nearly eight hours each day, knowledgeable instructors taught us what we needed to know to begin deputation, keep track of support and expenses, book meetings, and much more. It was an intense mini-course, but it armed us with the information we needed to begin our deputation in earnest.

After that, we had two weeks to create, purchase, and organize all the materials we needed for our display table. The Lord blessed in this endeavor and helped us to have everything (save our presentation video) ready by our first meeting.

We were privileged to take part in the annual mission conference at Tabernacle Baptist Church in Greenville, SC. This is the church where Dana grew up and we both attended college. It's also where we met and were married, so it holds special meaning for us.

The conference was a wonderful way to begin our deputation journey. We were blessed and encouraged beyond measure. Not only did the church provide for us financially and allow us to present our burden for Wales, but they fed us each night as well. It was exciting to be around family and old friends and to feel the excitement for missions as it coursed through each of the services. What a joy!

We have spent the past couple of services at our home church, Bible Baptist, in Pickens, SC trying to get everything ready for us to leave our posts as sound engineer, pianist, and Sunday School teacher. Though it is bittersweet to leave our home church of 18+ years, we are praying God will open doors for us to present our burden to many other churches over the next few months. The sooner we can raise our support, the sooner we can get to Wales.

We have a few meetings and mission conferences scheduled for the coming weeks. God has already opened doors as far away as Texas, though it will probably be several months before we can travel that far. Currently, I am still working full-time and trying to do deputation part-time. While it is doable, it's difficult, to say the least, and we are praying God will quickly send in enough support that we can go full-time on deputation. In the meantime, we will serve Him the best we can and share our burden with as many as will listen.

As always, thank you for your prayers and support!

In Christ's Hand,
